EDITORIAL.

The great news of the long-deferred, albeit inevitable triumph of right which has stirred in our nation,—indeed, in the whole world, such profound and mingled feelings cannot be without its influence on our smaller world of School. Four-and-a-half years is a large slice out of the schoolboy's life, and we should not forget that for nearly four-and-a-half years we, as a school, have been living an artificial and curtailed existence, intense though it has been. Our standards of work and of games have necessarily been lowered, by reason of the absence at sterner tasks of the more vigorous masters and the older boys. Some of these, alas! we shall not see again; others we hope to welcome fittingly on their return.

And now it is for us to buckle to our work and our play, chastened by our late anxieties, but strengthened by the lessons of discipline and social service which, it is to be hoped, this unforgettable struggle will have taught us.

* * * *

The past term has been a peculiarly sad one for us. Apart from the Army casualty lists, with their periodic tale of the loss of Old Boys, the Influenza scourge has carried off no less than three of our own members—S. Lord of Vb., Colbeck of IIIb., and Mitchinson of II. upper. We repeat here the expression of our respectful sympathy with their parents that we endeavoured to shew by our presence at their funerals.

* * * *

This epidemic, and the abnormally wet Autumn have hampered our football activities considerably, for since we have a light young and inexperienced XV., we should have made up for our lack of weight and size by greater skill. This we have been unable to do by reason of the frequent cancelling of games owing to the wet.

* * * *

However, we hope we may now look forward to a recovery of our position, when we shall have had time to grow an older set of Prefects and Sixth Form boys. That we have held our own so well with such young leaders, in work and sport, is of the happiest augury for the future.

On Tuesday, October 8th, the Senior forms were given a most interesting lecture by Professor B. P. Grenfell, Litt.D., on "Some recent Papyrus discoveries." The excellence of the lecture, and the world-wide fame of Professor Grenfell, combined to produce a great impression upon us.

* * * * *
We were also treated, on Thursday, October 24th, to an interesting and instructive lecture by Lieutenant Pierce, R.A.F., on "The Work of the R.A.F. in the War."

* * * * *
Speech Day was held on November 18th. Brigadier-General Bewicke Copley, C.B., very kindly came to distribute the prizes; he also gave a most stimulating address.

* * * * *
The annual celebration of Founder's day, November 19th, was held, with Commemoration Prayers for those Old Savilians who have fallen in the war.

* * * * *
On Saturday, September 28th, a picked Platoon of fifty Cadets went to Carlton Barracks, Leeds, where they were inspected, together with other Cadet units of the West Riding.

* * * * *
On Friday, November 15th, Captain S. P. Hayward, M.C., a well-known Old Savilian, combined amusement and instruction in a fascinating lecture on the Duties of an O.C. Company.

* * * * *
Owing to the disparity of numbers under the letter system of electing fresh members to a House, it has been found necessary to make a change, by which the four houses will be called Bentley's, Cave's, Freeston's, and Savile's. As the names of new boys are received the Headmaster will draft them into the various Houses in such a manner as to equalise the numbers of each.

OLD SAVILIANS KILLED IN ACTION:

They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old ;
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.—Laurence Binyon.

BENJAMIN WILLIAM GAUNT—1910-13, Member of 1st XV. 1912-13—Lieutenant, York and Lancaster Regiment. Killed in France, August 7th, 1918.

Benny Gaunt joined the Artist Rifles O.T.C. in December, 1915, and was gazetted in September, 1916. Going to France in December, 1916, he joined the 10th Battalion and was subsequently transferred to the 63rd Trench Mortar Battery. He was killed instantaneously by a machine-gun bullet through the heart whilst in action in Havrincourt Wood. A fellow officer writes:—"Your son was respected by the ranks for his bravery, and he did not know the word fear, his one thought was always for the comfort of his men who always called him amongst themselves "Benny." His General says of him that he was a very capable and gallant officer—always cheerful and keen, he set a splendid example. These remarkable tributes are just what we should have expected from Benny Gaunt. Always cheerful and revelling in the toughest of football "scrum," he did not know what funk was. His friends at Wakefield will long remember the cheery fellow whom to know was to love, and we grieve and sympathise with his parents in their loss of their only son. We would like further to add the tribute of the Rev. T. B. Hardy, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., a man of the highest courage who has himself since been killed in action. He writes:—"His bravery was undoubted and was splendidly shown when he met his death by going forward with his gun unhesitatingly to the support of some men in a difficult position—answering the call to the supreme sacrifice by which I firmly believe he has gained a glorious entrance into the higher life."

CHARLES EDWARD MOORBY—1910-14—Private Wiltshire Regiment. Killed in France, October 26th, 1918.

Charlie Moorby was a popular member of one of our Upper Forms and was a very keen and clever footballer. After trying several times to enlist he joined the King's Liverpool Regiment when he was 18 years old. From this regiment he was transferred to the Glamorganshire Yeomanry. Becoming a thoroughly efficient soldier—a first-class shot, and obtaining first-classes in bombing and machine-gun work—he was sent to France. Here he was attached to a division of Storm Troops and was continually engaged in all the severe fighting of the last few months. So Charlie Moorby, as at School and in our playing fields, did his best, and we agree with the remarks of his Company Officer who writes:—"He was a bright and cheery boy, and we all greatly miss him." We at school here have pride in him and his doings, and we know for a certainty how very proud he was of his old school and how eagerly he awaited news of it and its welfare.

CYRIL BURGESS—1912-15—Military Medal. Member of 1st XV. 1913-14; 1914-15. 1st XI. 1914. Bombardier, Royal Horse Artillery. Died in hospital in France of acute appendicitis, October 14th, 1918.

All who ever knew Cyril Burgess will be genuinely sorry to hear of his death at the early age of 19. Joining the army at an unusually early age, and before he ought to have done, he was soon out in France. With his battery he was constantly in action, and, never long in one place, his soldiering was strenuous in the extreme. His Military Medal was won through courage amazing in one who was a mere boy; receiving a wound in the neck he was back in a Military Hospital in Wakefield for a time. Shortly after, he was back again in most of the fighting since last March. It was likely that he would soon have received a commission in the Artillery, and we are confident that he would have adorned the position. As a footballer we can surely say of him that he has had no superiors and very few equals as a three-quarter back. As he was a boy of boundless energy and of the utmost good humour, no one could fail to appreciate Cyril Burgess. A full military funeral was awarded him by his battery, and such a tribute is rare to one situated as he was. He had won and merited such a position among both equals and those in authority over him. He was the eldest of four brothers,—all worthy sons of the School—and we mourn with them and his parents; but we feel pride in the memory of such a sunny nature.

PERCY GREEN—1903-08—2nd Lieutenant, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, Killed in France, September 9th, 1918.

So Percy Green has joined so many of his school friends who have died for their country. Many Old Savilians in Wakefield will well remember the cheery fellow when he was in the Vth Form, and in camp at Whitby. He had taken up banking as a profession and held an important position at Middlesborough, whence he was moved to Cardiff. Some remarkable tributes have been received by his parents and his young widow from fellow-officers and from his soldier-servant. "He died fighting at the head of his men, whom he led with the utmost gallantry and determination," writes his Major; and again his soldier-servant says: "I was with him in his last moments. He died like a true Britain. He begged of me to leave him and look out for myself but he had been too good an officer to me for me to leave him." Our sympathies are with his parents and his young widow.

OTTO DIXON DIXON—1907-14—Prefect; 1st XV. 1912-13, 13-14; 1st XI. 1912-13-14. Winner of Challenge Cup, 1912-13. Junior Challenge Shield, 1908. Lieutenant, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry. Died in hospital from pneumonia, November 4th, 1918.

In the early part of the war Otto Dixon was at Queen's College, Oxford, holding a Hasting's Exhibition. Here he joined the O.T.C. and was soon gazetted to the Yorkshire Light Infantry. Subsequently he saw considerable service in France and was wounded. He was also invalided home for blood-poisoning and at the time of his death was expecting to be transferred to the Royal Air Force. It is given to few boys to derive more benefit from the traditions and corporate life of a School than Otto Dixon did. The holder of a County Minor Scholarship, he entered the School young, and besides winning prizes throughout his school career, he took an exceedingly active part in all school games and activities. It is certain that this training and disposition of character eminently fitted him for the serious and anxious times through which we have been passing. In the turmoil of war, he nevertheless found time to turn his thoughts to Wakefield and to send us a line. Nothing delighted him so much as a visit to the School, and he was very keenly interested in our successes. We are sincerely grieved for his widowed mother and for his brothers who are known so well by many in Wakefield. We were fortunate in being able to pay a tribute to him by attending a funeral service at St. John's Church, when a very impressive ceremony was carried out by the Military Authorities.

HUGH STEWART McDOWALL — 1908-13 — 2nd
Lieutenant, Royal Air Force. Killed in an airplane accident,
June 26th, 1918.

Hugh McDowall was a boy who received the early part of his education at Wakefield, and when his parents removed from Castleford, he left us for Hornsea. Leaving school, he first entered the Merchantile Marine but was discharged following a severe illness after a long voyage. On his recovery he joined the Royal Air Force and quickly gained his flight certificates. It is surmised that he was taken ill during a flight, as he had previously flown the machine and the engine was found in order after the accident. A remarkable testimony to the affection shown towards him by his comrades, was given by the service which was accorded him with full military honours at the aerodrome on the following Sunday. We can well imagine this, as Hugh McDowall was a youngster here well liked, and deservedly so, by us all. That he would play the game in after life was a certainty, and we grieve sincerely that he was not spared to help those of his generation who are left to us.

HAROLD SQUIRE ARCHER — 1907-11 — Private,
South Wales Borderers. Killed in France, October 22nd, 1918.

Harold Archer was one of our most promising Old Boys and was deservedly popular with all. He had been particularly unfortunate in his military life, and although he had done excellent work in his special line, he had failed to obtain recognition from the Authorities. We who knew him are confident that he would have been a success as an officer, but it was not to be, and he is added to our list of heroes. A great future was in store for him as the head of a very large business in Wakefield and in Central Africa. He was an only son and was greatly needed by his father, and our sincere sympathy is with him in his irreparable loss. Young business men of the type of Harold Archer will be very much wanted in the time of re-construction, both in Wakefield and in the country in general.

FOOTBALL NOTES,

Owing to the fact that all last season's team has either been called up for military service or left the School, it has been difficult to choose a 1st XV. to stand up to such teams as Bradford and Leeds, who have O.T.C.'s, are able to produce. Add to this the fact that the Influenza epidemic has been very severe, and it will be seen that all attempts at a settled team are impossible.

* * * *

We beat Woodhouse Grove School at home 14-3; we were fortunate in having a full team at this match, but for the return at Woodhouse so many were away that we were forced to cancel it. Leeds O.T.C., Bradford and Leeds School all beat us badly on their own grounds, mostly because they were very much heavier teams, but we managed to give Leeds a good game at home, which they won by 17 points to three.

The second XV. is entirely new, but several of its members show considerable promise for next year. Both teams lack experience and consequently do not combine as well as they might; the halves do not open out the game for their throats, and the forwards do not tackle as much as they might.

THE AGRICULTURAL CAMP, WETHERBY.

This Summer our School once more sent a squad of boys to help with the harvest. Thirty cadets, under Captain Spilsbury as Commanding Officer, and Mr. McBurney as Adjutant, left Wakefield, on August 19th, to stay at Wetherby for a month. The Army Staff of the Camp consisted of a Sergeant, a Cook, and an Orderly.

The Camp was run, so far as was compatible with its purpose, on military lines. The Discipline kept the whole month was exceedingly good, and this, coupled with the cheerfulness and good fellowship of all, made the Camp a great success.

Through the kind assistance of Mr. Dugdale, the Agricultural Secretary of the Wetherby District, and the energy of Captain Spilsbury, we all had definite work, and had not the thankless task of seeking employment ourselves; the farmers, we think, were glad to get our labour at such cheap rates.

For the first fortnight we worked steadily, as the weather was good. We were initiated into the technicalities of "stooking," and talked of the respective merits of wheat, barley, and oats for this operation like born farmers. The second half of our stay was spoilt by the continuous rain, which often made work impossible.

On Monday, September 16th, we departed for home, satisfied to know that we had 'done our bit,' and that we could now become civilised beings once more, whose periods of sleep are not regulated by imperious blasts of the bugle; and pleased to think that we could vaunt ourselves as having had a month's very active service.

CADET CORPS NOTES.

Although somewhat depleted in numbers this term, owing to the fact that so many of its members have been called to the Colours, the Cadet Corps continues to flourish, reinforced by a dozen keen recruits. Efficiency increases with experience, as one may see on any parade. Throughout the Corps there is a most gratifying spirit of keenness, both in N.C.O.'s and Cadets.

The usual Field Day was held on Saturday, November 16th. Such functions are generally of great utility and interest, and this one proved to be no exception to the rule.

* * * *

Such members of the Corps as went to the Camp profited by their introduction to the mysteries of Camp life, as well as doing profitable work on their respective farms.

The first competition for the Corps Cups was held at the end of last term. The results were as follows:—

THE PRIZE DISTRIBUTION.

The Annual Prize-Distribution was held in the School Hall at 3 p.m., on the 18th of November. Brigadier-General Bewicke-Copley had kindly consented to distribute the prizes, so the Cadet Corps formed a Guard of Honour for him, lining the route to the platform. The proceedings were opened with the National Anthem and Hymn, after which the Spokesman to the Governors, Sir Edmund Stonehouse, called upon the Headmaster to read his report. After expressing the sorrow felt by the school at the three deaths caused by the Influenza, Mr. Spilsbury spoke of the high Military Distinctions gained by Old Savilians, and of the distressing losses suffered by the school on the battlefield. He then commented on the increasing numbers and the general healthy tone of the School, concluding with a few remarks on the aims of an Educational body.

After distributing the prizes and trophies, Brigadier-General Copley gave a short but stirring address to the boys, and received a hearty vote of thanks, proposed by Sir Edmund Stonehouse and seconded by Captain Walker. A vote of thanks to the Spokesman was then proposed by Councillor Mellor, which was seconded by Mr. Smith. The Ceremony was closed with the singing of the School Song, and cheers for the General.

FOUNDER'S DAY.

The Service for the Commemoration of Founder's Day was held, in conjunction with the Junior School Prize Distribution, on November 19th, at 10 a.m., and was conducted according to the usual antique custom. After the opening Hymn, Mr. Spilsbury read out the names of the Benefactors of the School, and the list of Old Savilians fallen in the War. The First Lesson was read by Mr. Baynes, and the Lesson following the Psalm by P. B. Broadbent, in the absence of the Senior Prefect, R. E. L. Wellington. Mr. Baines having given his report of work of the Junior School, the Spokesman (Sir E. Stonehouse) invited Mr. Briggs to distribute the Prizes, remarking on the great interest which the Deputy-Spokesman took in Educational work, and on his services to the Grammar School. In his address, Mr. Briggs said how proud everyone ought to be of the School's noble record. A vote of thanks was proposed to him by the Mayoress, Mrs. Blakey, and seconded by Miss Mackie, after which the Headmaster called for the customary poem in honour of Queen Elizabeth, and, on the presentation of one by P. B. Broadbent, declared the remainder of the day a holiday. At the end of the Ceremony the School Song was sung and cheers given for the Visitors and Headmaster.

JUNIOR SCHOOL NOTES.

The death of C. R. Mitchinson (II. Upper) from pneumonia following influenza on October 28th, has cast a gloom over the whole School. Dick Mitchinson had only been with us for just a year, but by his steadiness and cheeriness he had won the affection of all. In work and games alike he was always ready to take his part, and we feel most deeply the loss of such a loyal member of the School.

As over half our numbers were down with Influenza and fresh victims appeared each day, we closed down from November 8th to November 18th.

Last term we had the most successful cricket season on record. The awarding of Junior School cricket colours has certainly stimulated keenness and the fielding showed an all-round improvement. A. M. Armitage made an excellent captain. He and the two Crabtrees showed much promise as bowlers taking 22, 17 and 12 wickets in the various matches for 57, 49 and 45 runs respectively. The batting still lacks style, but Dronfield batted freely scoring 70 in 6 innings. Year after year we have struggled without success against our old rivals The Bede Home and The Girls' High School, but this time both were vanquished, the former by 143 to 45, and the latter by 79 to 68. The end of the High School match was most exciting, as the girls got our first seven wickets down for 47, but our tail rose to the occasion and wagged most vigorously.

The Hobbies Exhibition held at the end of the Summer term showed much more originality and hard work on the part of the exhibitors. We have to thank Miss Robinson and two parents for providing prizes for the best results. It is to Miss Robinson's unflagging interest in the Allotment, and her genius for rousing the keenness of all, that the success of the Exhibition was due.

The Junior School War Savings Association progresses steadily and we have now paid in over £340.

OLD SAVILIAN NOTES.

Our first word this month must naturally be one of thankfulness that hostilities have at last ceased in the war which has raged in Europe and Asia during the past four-and-a-quarter years. We deplore the loss of so many precious lives, and especially of those of our own Old Boys. This is not the time or place to do full honour to the memory of the great sacrifices made so freely and generously for the great cause our Empire and her Allies have fought in, and in the end gained so great a victory for. As will be seen on other pages of this issue a scheme has been launched for perpetuating the memory of those who have died that we may live, and the response is so far most gratifying. We earnestly commend the matter to the whole of the members of the Old Savilians Club, as well as the parents, relatives and all who are interested in the objects there set out.

During his year of office as Mayor of Pontefract, Councillor Oswald Holmes (a member of the Old Savilians Club), though occupationally exempt from military service he suspended his newspaper ("The Pontefract and Castleford Advertiser") and joined the A.S.C. as a motor lorry driver. After being less than a fortnight in khaki he was sent home on "final leave," during which he had the unique task of remanding two men of his own Corps on a charge of murder. Private O. Holmes must surely be one of the oldest of Old Savilians in the ranks, his term at School being from 1878 to 1884.

As it is very likely that the Roll of Honour will soon be closed, Mr. Head will be glad to receive notice of over-looked names, and also corrections of entries on the list. It is probable that a revised publication will be issued shortly.
